

Author's Kit

Thank you for participating in the 2026 ASEE Annual Conference and Exposition in Charlotte, North Carolina.

This kit is a guide to help you submit and manage all abstracts and papers. Authors are responsible for following the procedures and meeting all deadlines and requirements in the paper submission process. ASEE is not responsible for papers that are withdrawn because they were incomplete, or deadlines were missed.

If you have any questions, please contact the ASEE Conferences Staff at Conferences@asee.org.

Regards,

Monique Ayala
Conference Director

Author Responsibilities

Each Author who submits an abstract and paper should:

- Read this kit and follow all of the instructions (this is extremely important)
- Submit their abstract as a TEXT ONLY and their draft as a PDF ONLY
- Acknowledge the Plagiarism Policy
- Acknowledge the Copyright Transfer
- Check that all information; from the paper title to the spelling of co-authors' name/s, is correct
- Indicate who is presenting the paper
- Pay the registration fee
- Assign someone else to manage your paper or pay your fees, if you are unavailable to do so yourself
- Contact ASEE Conferences Staff at conferences@asee.org with any questions or problems

Potential problems

Be advised, your paper will not be published if you:

- Fail to submit a final copy of the paper before the deadline
- Fail to have at least one author registered for the conference by the deadline

Other authors have had papers published with unfortunate mistakes. Please don't let these happen to you:

- Failure to add co-authors and check the spelling of their names before marking your paper as finalized
- Failure to proofread your biography before submitting the final paper
- Failure to check the uploaded version of the final paper for formatting and other errors

BE ADVISED!

- ASEE will withdraw papers that do not have at least one author registered by the deadline.
- REMINDER: If that one author cancels their registration, the paper will subsequently be withdrawn.

What are the Different Final Draft Phases?

- Final open means the corresponding author has not yet uploaded the final draft.
- Final submitted papers means the corresponding author has submitted the final draft but none of the authors have registered. At least one author must be registered for the paper to be finalized.
- Finalized, the corresponding author has uploaded the final draft, at least one author has paid their registration, and the system has automatically generated a coversheet. The paper is ready to be assigned to a technical session.

Conditions:

- Peer review occurs for both abstracts and papers. Abstract acceptance does not guarantee acceptance of the paper. All divisions have a Publish-to-Present requirement and final papers must be written and accepted for the work to be presented at the 2026 ASEE Annual Conference.
- In addition, the Program Chair has the sole discretion to assign the accepted paper to a technical session (for oral presentation) or a poster session.
- Submission of abstracts and final papers will be via the NEMO system and in accordance with ASEE published deadlines.
- Plagiarism Policy:
 - You will be required to acknowledge and accept the plagiarism policy before you can submit your abstract. The plagiarism policy can also be found in Appendix E
- Copyright Acknowledgements
 - You will be required to acknowledge the copyright policy before you submit the abstract. The copyright policy can be found in the Appendix G

- When requested revisions for the paper are uploaded, its status changes to Waiting until it is accepted or rejected by the program chair.

APPENDIX A

Adding co-authors

The screenshot shows the ASEE Paper Management interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with the ASEE logo, a home icon, and the user name 'Patti Greenawalt' with a profile icon. Below this is a breadcrumb trail: '2023 ASEE Annual Conference & Exposition > Paper Management > Paper'. A secondary navigation bar contains buttons for 'Checklist', 'Deadlines', 'Instructions', and 'Change History'. The main content area has tabs for 'Abstract', 'Version 2', and 'Paper ID 36560'. Below the tabs, it says 'This is a Test'. A blue banner message states: 'Your abstract has been received. You can edit the abstract until the program chair assigns reviewers.' The 'Authors' section is below, showing 'Ms. Patti Greenawalt' as the author. To the right of the author list is a button labeled '+ Add A Co-Author', which is circled in red. Below the author list, there are instructions: 'In the event your paper is accepted, these authors will appear in the proceedings in the order below. Also, please select the presenting author.' At the bottom, there are icons for moving the author up or down, deleting the author, and a row of buttons: 'It's me', 'Completed Info', 'Presenting?' (with a checkbox), and a 'Presenting?' label.

- Every paper has one main or corresponding author, who conducts all of the main business previously discussed.
- If your paper has co-authors, corresponding authors will be required to send invitations.
- Co-Authors can accept the invitations by clicking on the link in the email notification.
- Co-authors can also view the paper's status.

BE ADVISED!

- Only corresponding authors can upload attachments and only corresponding authors can assign that designation to a different co-author.

For Corresponding Authors:

Adding co-authors to your paper:

Search for co-authors by name or email address in the Authors section.

If you cannot find your co-author:

- They likely do not have an ASEE account yet
- Inform them they need to create an account first
- If they believe they already have an account, ask them to contact ASEE Conferences Staff at conferences@asee.org

Common issues that prevent co-authors from appearing in search:

- Mistyped names or outdated email addresses
- Multiple accounts with different information
- Unverified new accounts

For new ASEE members: If your co-author is new to ASEE, they must:

1. Create an ASEE account
2. Verify their email address by clicking the confirmation link sent to them
3. Log in to their new account (this step is critical - it synchronizes their data between our membership and conference systems)

Once they complete these steps, ask them for the exact name and email address used for their account so you can search and add them successfully. The search will only find co-authors who have verified accounts and have logged in after creation.

For New ASEE Co-Authors:

If you're new to ASEE and invited as a co-author for a paper at an ASEE conference, you must create an ASEE account before you can be added to the paper.

Steps to create your account:

1. Visit <https://members.asee.org/account/login.aspx?signup=yes> to create an account
2. Check your email for a confirmation message and click the verification link
3. Log in to your newly created account - this ensures your data synchronizes with our conference system and activates your verified account
4. Inform the corresponding author of the exact name and email address you used for your account so they can add you to the paper

Important: You must complete all three steps, especially logging in after email verification, or you will not appear in the co-author search results.

APPENDIX E

ASEE Official Plagiarism Policy

Policy on Plagiarism and Duplicate Publication American Society for Engineering Education

May 31, 2013; Revised October 2, 2014

Preamble

The American Society for Engineering Education serves the engineering and technology communities by offering professional conferences, networking opportunities, and support of research in the various fields of engineering and technology related to education. Research is disseminated to the wider community via the organization's professional publications. ASEE subscribes to the highest standards of ethical conduct, as detailed in the "ASEE Statement on Engineering Ethics Education," located on the society's website at <http://www.asee.org/about-us/the-organization/our-board-of-directors/asee-board-of-directors-statements/engineering-ethics-education>.

In scholarly publication, plagiarism occurs when an author copies the words, illustrations, and ideas of others without identifying the sources. Plagiarism is unethical because it represents the theft of the intellectual work of others, and the subsequent misrepresentation of that work as the author's own. An act of plagiarism not only violates intellectual property rights but is anathema to the principle of academic integrity, which is fundamental for scholarly research, writing, and publication. Inadvertent publication of plagiarized material can undermine the quality of a journal or proceedings.

When authors copy not from others but from themselves, by publishing the same article in multiple journals, the practice is called redundant or duplicate publication. Compared with plagiarism, duplicate publication is generally considered less serious, but it is still unethical. (The only exception is when reprinting has been appropriately approved and permission obtained from the original copyright holder; e.g., a keynote speech that has also been published.) Duplicate publication of the same article wastes space in journals and time of reviewers. Duplicate publication misrepresents the author's record of scholarly contributions, and it corrupts meta-analyses of multiple studies on the same subject.

This policy outlines the steps that ASEE will take in response to allegations of plagiarism and duplicate publication involving articles published in or submitted to ASEE journals, magazines, and conference proceedings, including the annual conference, section and zone meetings, and the global colloquium.

Definitions and Scope

1. The original paper is the paper or source from which the words and ideas were copied. The second paper is the paper in which the copied text later appears. This policy applies both when the second paper is a submitted manuscript and when the second paper has appeared in print.
2. This policy applies when either the original paper or the second paper has appeared in an ASEE publication, or when the second paper has been submitted to an ASEE publication.

3. In this policy, the author is the author of the second paper. The policy applies with equal force to all co-authors of the second paper.
4. Plagiarism occurs when the second paper copies a significant amount of text from the original paper without proper citation of the source (e.g., beyond “fair use” in copyright law). For this policy, plagiarism requires that the copying be either verbatim or nearly verbatim (with minor insignificant changes) without citing the original source. Whereas other definitions of plagiarism include close paraphrasing from an unattributed source, the strict definition in this policy enables editors to focus on the clearest cases, without expending effort to evaluate whether an instance of paraphrasing constitutes plagiarism. Note that citations are not required for ideas that are well known within the field of the paper.
5. Duplicate publication occurs when at least one author is in common between the original paper and the second paper.
6. For this policy, to qualify as a case of duplicate publication, the original paper must be an article in a peer-reviewed journal or peer-reviewed conference proceedings. When the original paper is on an unreviewed website or in an unreviewed conference proceedings, the submission or publication of the second paper is not considered duplicate publication; however, the author must notify the journal editor at time of submission as to where and when the paper was originally published. When the author republishes an original ASEE conference paper in a journal, the author or the journal first must secure a copyright release from ASEE, and the second paper must identify the original source.
7. The Editor-in-Chief of an ASEE publication is the editor who has ultimate responsibility for that publication. For an ASEE conference proceedings, the overall conference chair fulfills that role.

Procedure

1. An allegation of plagiarism or duplicate publication must be made by the initiator—who might be either a reviewer or reader—in writing. The allegation must include all relevant evidence, such as the original sources, and must be addressed to the Editor-in-Chief of the appropriate ASEE publication.
2. Within 14 calendar days, the Editor-in-Chief will review the allegation. If the Editor-in-Chief concurs that the allegation represents a potential instance of plagiarism or serious duplicate publication, the Editor-in-Chief will refer the allegation to an ad hoc investigation committee. If the Editor-in-Chief and the Executive Director of ASEE agree that the allegation represents duplicate publication of substantially less than 50% of the original or second paper, the Editor-in-Chief will request a correction from the author; if the author does not respond in writing within 30 calendar days, this process will continue.
3. The ad hoc investigation committee will be appointed by the Executive Director of ASEE. That committee will include an editor or associate editor from an ASEE publication who is not involved with the allegation and three other appropriate members whose expertise includes the subject matter of the papers named in the allegation.

4. The investigation committee will evaluate the written evidence and report its findings to the Editor-in-Chief within 30 days. If the committee finds clear and convincing evidence that plagiarism or duplicate publication has occurred, the report will recommend an appropriate sanction (see below).
5. If the allegation is not dismissed, the Editor-in-Chief will immediately forward the investigation committee's report to each author of the second paper, inviting each to respond in writing within 30 days. The Editor-in-Chief may ask each author to describe the various roles of each co-author concerning the incident.
6. Within 14 days of receiving all of the authors' responses, or after the 30 day response period has elapsed, the Editor-in-Chief will decide to either accept the recommended sanction or modify it as appropriate. The Editor-in-Chief will deliver the decision to the author, co-authors, and the investigation committee in writing.
7. If the second paper has multiple authors, the Editor-in-Chief may choose different sanctions for different authors, depending on their roles in the preparation of the second paper.
8. For each author who is at an academic institution, the Editor-in-Chief will send copies of the evidence, the investigation committee's report, and the sanction notification to the research integrity officer (RIO) of the author's institution. If the institution has no RIO, the Editor-in-Chief will notify the institution's academic vice president or equivalent administrator.
9. The author may appeal the decision of the Editor-in-Chief to the Executive Director of ASEE, in writing, within 30 days. Upon reviewing the evidence, the Executive Director may reduce the severity of the sanction, but may not increase the sanction. The Executive Director will then convey the decision on the appeal to the author and the institution's RIO. The Executive Director's decision is final.

Sanctions

1. Extensive cases. A plagiarism case is considered extensive if more than 50% of the original paper is plagiarized, or more than 50% of the second paper represents plagiarized material. In this case, all of the author's manuscripts currently under review by ASEE journals and conferences will be immediately rejected. In addition, the author will be prohibited from publication in ASEE publications for three to five years. If the second paper appeared in an ASEE journal or conference, a notice of plagiarism will be printed where appropriate.
2. Serious cases. A plagiarism case is considered serious if a substantial amount of either the original paper or the second paper is plagiarized. A duplicate publication case is serious if more than 50% of the original or second paper represents duplicated material. In this case, all of the author's manuscripts currently under review by ASEE journals and conferences will be immediately rejected. In addition, the author will be prohibited from publication in ASEE publications for one to three years. If the second paper appeared in an ASEE journal or conference, a notice of plagiarism or duplicate publication will be printed where appropriate.
3. Significant cases. A case of plagiarism is considered significant if 300 or more consecutive words are copied verbatim or nearly verbatim. A duplicate publication case is significant if a substantial amount of the original or second paper represents duplicated material. In this case, the author's manuscripts currently under review by ASEE journals or conferences may be rejected. In addition, the author may be prohibited from publication in ASEE publications for at most one year.

Additional Policies

1. Confidentiality. The Editor-in-Chief and others involved in carrying out this policy will maintain the confidentiality of the identities of the initiator and the author, and the confidentiality of all correspondence regarding the case and its disposition.
2. Conflict of interest. All editors who have a conflict of interest with the author or the author's institution will recuse themselves from this process.
3. Diversity. The Editor-in-Chief and others who carry out this policy will respect cultural differences in citation practices by different scholarly communities and academic disciplines.
4. Non-retaliation. If the initiator has brought the allegation in good faith, then there should be no retaliation against the initiator.
5. Records. After a finding of plagiarism or duplicate publication, if the second paper has appeared in an ASEE journal or conference proceedings, then the electronic version of the paper will be permanently marked as plagiarized or duplicated, and a reference to the source will be included.
6. Modifications. Minor modifications in this policy may be made at the discretion of the Executive Director of ASEE. For example, the Executive Director may extend a time period for good reasons, or appoint a substitute for the Editor-in-Chief in a case of conflict of interest.

APPENDIX F:

What is IEEE Style?

The Institute for Electrical and Electronics Engineers \(IEEE\) is a professional organization supporting many branches of engineering, computer science, and information technology. In addition to publishing journals, magazines, and conference proceedings, IEEE also makes many standards for a wide variety of industries.

IEEE citation style includes in-text citations, numbered in square brackets, which refer to the full citation listed in the reference list at the end of the paper. The reference list is organized numerically, not alphabetically. For examples, see the IEEE Editorial Style Manual.

The Basics:

In-text Citing It is not necessary to mention an author's name, pages used, or date of publication in the in-text citation. Instead, refer to the source with a number in a square bracket, e.g. [1], that will then correspond to the full citation in your reference list.

- Place bracketed citations within the line of text, before any punctuation, with a space before the first bracket.
- Number your sources as you cite them in the paper. Once you have referred to a source and given it a number, continue to use that number as you cite that source throughout the paper.
- When citing multiple sources at once, the preferred method is to list each number separately, in its own brackets, using a comma or dash between numbers, as such: [1], [3], [5] or [1] - [5].

The below examples are from Murdoch University's IEEE Style LibGuide.

Examples of in-text citations:

"...end of the line for my research [13]."

"This theory was first put forward in 1987 [1]."

"Scholtz [2] has argued that..."

"Several recent studies [3], [4], [15], [16] have suggested that...."

"For example, see [7]."

Creating a Reference List The Reference List appears at the end of your paper and provides the full citations for all the references you have used. List all references numerically in the order they've been cited within the paper, and include the bracketed number at the beginning of each reference.

- Title your list as References either centered or aligned left at the top of the page.
- Create a hanging indent for each reference with the bracketed numbers flush with the left side of the page. The hanging indent highlights the numerical sequence of your references.
- The author's name is listed as first initial, last name. Example: Adel Al Muhairy would be cited as A. Al Muhairy (NOT Al Muhairy, Adel).
- The title of an article is listed in quotation marks.
- The title of a journal or book is listed in italics.

The below examples are from the IEEE Citation Reference Guide and Murdoch University's IEEE Style LibGuide.
